		Show "Rise of the Wahine: Champions of Title IX" - a film about the rise of women in America, including the battles of women to overcome gender inequality, of women's rights to play sports, and of the passage of Title IX, the Equal Rights Amendment.
		This is an excellent training that teaches all employees how they can contribute to the create of a campus climate that reflects a commitment to safety for all. The interactive, researched, and evaluated curriculum uses a community of responsibility approach. The program teaches bystanders how safely intervene before, during and after an incident of sexual abuse, relationship violence and stalking. Thorough in-depth discussion of issues and role-playing, participants come to understand how they play a part in proactively preventing sexual and relationship violence, how they can help survivors get the help and support they need, and how they contribute to the creation of a campus climate that reflects a commitment to safety for all.

		The program is meant to address targeted school violence, like school shootings, as a specialized subcategory of school safety and behavioral intervention. The idea is to supplement school's current programs with specialized help specific for targeted school violence and to address underlying causes of violence, such as social and emotional well-being, rather than the many current school security programs that focus on physical things like securing doors.

		October is National Domestic Violence Awareness Month. Join us as we all come together to remember those members in our community that have been lost due to domestic violence. As well as continuing to support and celebrate those who survived. This virtual vigil is an opportunity to unite our UH campuses and the greater community to end domestic violence and envision a brighter future without violence. In dark times, know that we shine BRIGHTER TOGETHER.
