NDEAM is an annual awareness campaign established in 1945, with this year's theme being "Disability: Part of the Equity Equation." The purpose of NDEAM is to educate people about disability employment issues and celebrate the many and varied contributions of America's workers with disabilities. Throughout the month of October, all ten UH campuses will be engaging in activities that may include education and awareness on disability employment issues, and our commitment to the inclusive work culture. In honor of NDEAM, the UH systemwide Equal Employment Opportunity (EEO) Offices are pleased to announce an upcoming webinar series on various topics related to disability employment, reasonable accommodation, and digital accessibility. View more details and register for sessions. This webinar series will be via Zoom and you must have access to a computer. 				The function of a CSA is to report allegations of certain serious crimes that have been disclosed to him or her in good faith. Maui College has designated the Campus Security Department as the repository for CSA's to report their annual Clery crime statistics. This training will assist, inform and guide all CSA's in their required reporting positions.
Mental Health America of Hawaii				Describe the negative impact of COVID-19 on mental health. Discuss the physiological and psychological effects of stress and anxiety. Identify self-care and coping skills to address anxiety. Review warning signs for mental health. Review crisis resources available to the community.
Mental Health America of Hawaii	Mental Health America of Hawaii			Suicide Prevention 101 is a basic yet foundational presentation that introduces audiences to the major suicide prevention concepts and skills. Content includes core principles, local data, risk/protective factors, warning signs, best practices for connecting with someone who may be having thoughts of suicide, safe messages, and community resources. The presentation helps to create common knowledge and language around suicide prevention for any adult audience, and also is meant to be a springboard to other more in-depth/advanced training.
				Title IX is a landmark federal civil rights law that prohibits sex discrimination in education. Are you up to date with the mandatory training? Do you know when or how to make a report? Do you know who to go to for help? Join us as Shawna discusses the Dos and Don'ts of Title IX
				Title IX with ELWD staff
				Join the AAUW Honolulu Branch, AAUW at UH Manoa, and UH Manoa Office of Civic & Community Engagement for a special film screening of The Hunting Ground, followed by a talk story with one of its main subjects, Annie E. Clark.
	One Love Foundation			Celebrate healthy relationships month in February. And remind UHMC employees that UHMC's Office of Title IX is available for assistance. Through awareness, we hope to educate our campus community about the challenges that many individuals face and highlight ways we can help our loved ones. UHMC employees who want to receive assistance or information in a confidential, private setting may contact a Confidential Resource on campus.
				Please join us for an afternoon talk story session and support the University of Hawai'i Foundation as we celebrate 50 years of Title IX. Learn about this ground breaking gender equality legislation written by Maui native – Patsy Mink. Celebrate its impact on our culture over the last 50 years with a portion of the proceeds to support Maui Wahine High School Sports. Wahine Wednesday – Learn, Network, Connect, and Support our fellow Maui Wahine.

				A panel of leaders will address their experiences and their vision of Title IX.
				In honor of Sexual Assault Awareness Month. This session explores the dynamics of stalking, focusing on the highly contextual nature of the crime by discussing common tactics used by perpetrators and stalking's co-occurrence with intimate partner and sexual violence. This webinar will also share tools to assess victim risk and plan for victim safety.
				This training is will include a showing of Shots, a short film created by the SATC and the Hawai'i Coalition Against Sexual Assault which highlights the high-risk intersection between alcohol and sexual violence. The training will also include a discussion about alcohol-related sexual violence amongst young adults, the factors involved and bystander intervention strategies to prevent assaults, and creating a respectful environment. Additionally, information will be shared about the impact of sexual assault on survivors, how to respond to disclosures, services, and victim rights.
				Attend this SafeZone training to learn about the UH LGBTQ+ Commission and its current mission, as well as find out specific ways to makes your teaching more inclusive in the online and Zoom realms. Participants must complete our advocate/ally survey before they can receive a Commission certificate and advocate stickers to place in their office. In addition, their names will be added to the system list of SafeZone trained faculty and staff.
				Email to UHMC Maui Announcement about Denim Day and help bring awareness to Sexual Assault. Want to do more to promote sexual assault awareness? Consider participating in Denim Day, an international movement where people wear jeans to protest against the misconceptions surrounding sexual violence. Denim Day this year falls on April 27, 2022. To learn more about Sexual Assault Awareness Month (SAAM)and support services for survivors, please visit our website.

				In celebration of the 50th Anniversary of Title IX, UH Maui College and the American Association of University Women (AAUW) Maui Branch presents Fierce and Fearless: Book Discussion on the first biography of Maui-born and raised Congresswoman Patsy Mink, the champion of Title IX legislation which gave equal rights to women in federally-funded educational programs. We will discuss the efforts of Patsy Mink as she fought to enact Title IX and presently, the need to strengthen and vigorously enforce all aspects of Title IX to protect students' civil rights to ensure inclusive, empowering, intergenerational and intersectional equality for all people living in Maui Nui and beyond.
				Email raising awareness about Patsy Mink and Title IX. Today, we are honoring Patsy T. Mink and the 50th anniversary of Title IX. Title IX is the civil rights law that prohibits discrimination based on sex at educational institutions that receive federal financial assistance. In celebration, the University of Hawai'i and local women's organizations hosted a commemorative lei ceremony at the Patsy T. Mink statue on O'ahu. The recording of the ceremony can be found on the Women's Legislative Caucus Facebook page. Please click on the following links to review two recently featured articles. The Maui News explains how the "Legacy of Maui's Patsy Mink lives on in Title IX" and Maui Now focuses on how "Maui Patsy Mink remembered on 50th Anniversary of landmark Title IX passage". If you, or someone you know, has experienced or has information regarding a Title IX issue, please contact me at (808) 984-3601 for information and assistance with the complaint process. Individuals interested in filing a complaint may use the online Title IX Portal.
				Email to raise awareness: I am reaching out to our campus community as there are many people who have had a strong reaction to the Supreme Court's decision in Dobbs decision overturning Roe v. Wade. As members of PAU Violence, we want to create a space for people to share their feelings and support each other during this uncertain time. Kapi'olani Community College, Honolulu Community College, University of Hawai'i Maui College and Windward Community College are cohosting a safe space for us to come together virtually tomorrow afternoon at 3 pm to share and support each other. Please feel free to share this with anyone who you think would be interested in attending.

				Wielding hohoa (a kapa-making implement) as weapons of warfare, the mystic mähū of Hā'ena, Kaua'i, nearly seize control of the island from its ruling chief, Manouli. Kamaakamahī'ai is called in a dream to defend his grandfather's kingdom. Armed with supernatural abilities and a sacred war club, he faces his toughest tussle yet. In this presentation, we will review "Ka Moololo o Kamaakamahī'ai," documented by J. W. K. Kaualiinoo and printed in the Hawaiian language newspapers Ka Nupepa Kuokoa in 1870-1871. We will discuss the epic battle scene to showcase the fierce and fabulous qualities of mähū warriorship and villainy in Hawaiian mo'olelo. This story is one of just a handful of known mo'olelo about mähū. Through this presentation, we will remember, retell, and revitalize mo'olelo mähū as stories of strength, beauty, power, and resilience.
				Created by the UH Commission on Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender and Queer+ (LGBTQ+) Equality, this workshop aims to guide participants through thinking about and defining the differences between sex, gender, and gender expression, and how these concepts fit into the identities and experiences of LGBTQI+ individuals. We will also discuss practices we can perform towards being more inclusive of LGBTQI+ individuals and identify UH policies and resources that exist to promote and implement inclusion. NOTE: Presenters highly recommend that participants be Safe Zone-trained prior to this session, though it is not required.

				In modern times, the term mǎhū has been used widely in local Hawai'i vernacular as a slur towards the LGBTQ+ community, including transgender individuals and men who were feminine and/or non-heterosexual. The origin of this word, however, contrasts starkly with this derisive use, as mǎhū is connected to a history of reverence, power, and inclusion in pre-colonial Hawai'i. In this session, we will contrast Western Christian and Native Hawaiian perspectives to articulate how colonization has impacted our thinking around gender, sexuality, and the idea of shame. This juxtaposition will include exploration of the concepts of 'aikāne and mǎhū and how the history behind these terms can help us think more expansively about gender, sexual diversity, and modern queerness.
				Domestic Violence Awareness Month Kick-off Event. The Walk a Mile in Her Shoes event is an opportunity for everyone to raise awareness in their community about the serious causes, and effects to men's sexualized violence against women. All proceeds go directly to Women Helping Women programs
				This training's purpose is to both invite and challenge audiences to better understand the diverse and complex experiences of the queer community. The first portion of this training provides education on identities, gender theory, and queer competency for folks dedicated to the life long commitment of allyship. The last part focuses on experiences of sexual assault and domestic violence within the queer community, barriers for receiving services, and how allies can support queer survivors. This training also focuses on transgender competency and is open to all folks who want a better understanding on how to support the trans community.
				The Men's March Against Violence is an annual event - an opportunity - to engage men as allies in standing together against domestic violence. With your participation this year's March will be a memorable event. This is our chance to take a stand. Come and support our efforts to raise awareness and prevent the harm domestic violence does to our island families.
				In Filipino circles, the idea of "bakla" is pervasive, often an image of flamboyance and fun that has become highly visible on television and social media platforms. In modern times, this image often defines much of Filipino understanding of the LGBTQ+ community, but it belies the history behind Filipino gender and sexuality and contemporary Filipino queerness. In this session, we will explore the history behind the babaylan of pre-colonial Philippines, including the ways Catholicism and Spanish colonization resulted in the stigmatization of the babaylan and other practices of gender and sexual fluidity. We will use this history to explore how we can conceptualize the many colors of modern Filipino queerness and heal the way we as a community think about gender and sexual diversity.

				Accommodating mental health conditions in the workplace may bring challenges not present when accommodating other disabilities. Many times the need for accommodations are not obvious, so there are misunderstandings about what issues or difficulties the employee may be having, the cause of the issues or difficulties, and what accommodations may be effective. There are also concerns about medical documentation, meeting performance and conduct standards, attendance, and confidentiality. This session provides in-depth information and discusses issues that will help participants understand more challenging ADA situations.

				Since 1988, Coming Out Day has been acknowledged annually in October. This day is dedicated to supporting those in the queer or LGBTQI+ community with the act of “coming out of the closet” or declaring their identities. The spirit of the day acknowledges that the act of coming out can be difficult, but can also be a powerful act, personally and politically. In this session, we will talk with two University of Hawai‘i professionals - Maiana Minahal and Dr. Brent Rubio - regarding their coming out experiences in terms of the challenges and joys involved in their coming out processes as well as thoughts regarding how to support those who have come out or are thinking to come out.
				The pandemic has required employers to embrace new perspectives on where, when, and how work is performed and to adopt flexible policies and practices to meet business objectives. These new perspectives are shaping the future of work, especially for employees with disabilities who request Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA) accommodations. In this session, a representative of the Job Accommodation Network (JAN) will offer pro tips for navigating the accommodation process to address evolving workforce needs related to returning to the workplace and reasonable accommodations.

				As we celebrate Pride Month in October, we look at what it means to be an ally to the members of our LBGQT+ community at the University of Hawai‘i. Please join us for a discussion with our distinguished panel of members as they share their thoughts on what allyship means, how to be a better ally, and the unique joys and challenges facing this community. The audience is welcome to bring their questions and share their experiences. This session is a cross-over event to celebrate National Coming Out Day, October 11.
				Throughout this ongoing pandemic, we continue to experience constant change and stress. Prioritizing our wellbeing, especially through cultural values and practices, is of critical importance. This workshop will explore traditional Hawaiian culture and values through Kūkulu Kumuhana. This wellbeing tool uplifts six principles of Ea (self-determination), ‘Āina Momona (healthy land and people), Pilina (mutually sustaining relationships), Waiwai (ancestral knowledge), ‘Ōiwi (cultural identity), and Ke Akua Mana (spirituality and sacredness of mana). Join us as we explore these six principles and provide practical ideas and activities to strengthen our collective wellbeing in yourself, your ‘ohana, and in everyday life.

				Primary prevention of domestic violence must include engaging men as allies. This public health approach stops the violence before it starts and encourages men to live into their authentic selves, thus allowing men to participate in healthy, equitable, and respectful relationships. Authentic masculinity, in part, is associated with healthily connecting to one's mind, physical body, and spirit. Our guest panelists will share how they practice these dimensions in their own lives and the critical role men can play in preventing domestic violence.
