RESIDENCY

- Tuition for attending University of Hawaii Maui College is based on whether you are a resident or non-resident of the State of Hawaii. Residency for tuition purposes is based on a specific set of regulations and not only on whether you live in the state. A condensed version of the residency regulations is included in the UH System Application Form.
- Nonresident applicants must pay a $25.00 nonrefundable, nontransferable application fee.
- Members of the U.S. Armed Forces stationed in Hawaii, on active military duty, and their authorized dependents are exempt from this fee.
Special Notice to Currently Enrolled Nonresident Students at All UH Campuses

- All nonresident students who are newly admitted in Fall 2005 semester, and thereafter, may be affected by a change in the University of Hawaii’s policy regarding nonresident status for tuition purposes. Nonresident students who enter any campus of the University of Hawai‘i may not be allowed to change his/her residency status from nonresident to resident during any period in which he/she:
  - enrolled for 6 credits or more at any UH campus;
  - was absent from Hawai‘i for more than 30 days per year during school vacation periods;
  - received student financial assistance based on residency in another state; or
  - was a dependent of nonresident parent(s) or legal guardian.

ORIENTATION

- New Student Orientation (NSO) will help you make a smooth transition into college. Attend NSO to receive registration assistance, learn about free support services, connect with other new students, and much more.
