A person’s housing situation should have no bearing on their access to opportunity. When students experiencing homelessness don’t get a fair shot at graduation or a pathway to success, we deny them the American Dream. Nearly three out of four homeless students reported bring motivated to complete their education and take the next steps in their careers, notwithstanding their traumatic circumstances. If they are hopeful about their futures, we must be too. Join us for a panel discussion on homelessness!
Affirm that every student deserves an education free from harassment, fear and intolerance and foster a safe and inclusive community for LGBTQ+ students, faculty, and staff to promote social justice in the University of Hawai’i System.

You are not alone. Join a community of suicide loss survivors to find comfort and gain understanding as we share stories of healing and hope.

Managers learn how to comply with the laws of discrimination, wrongful termination and harassment as well as with policies and contracts by developing their skills to coach employees to be successful, counsel them to improve, complete accurate performance appraisals, document issues, make fair promotional decisions, handle complaints of harassment, and intervene when they see it in order to uphold the values of Aloha, Kuleana, Lōkahi, Mālama, Mana’olana and Pono.
Employees learn how the law of harassment is implemented at UH through its policies, and how it relates to the values of Aloha, Kuleana, Lōkahi, Mālama, Mana’olana and Pono.Through case studies, employees apply the law and policy to specific situations, recognize the manger’s duty to prevent and respond, state legal and policy remedies available to victims, relate harassment law to creating a respectful workplace, learn how to intervene if they are bystanders, and plan how they will uphold workplace values.
-Learn how advertisement, images of famous people with addictions, Hollywood movies, film, television and music persuade, and subconsciously urge, influence and manipulate us into over-drinking, eating, smoking and taking other drugs. Often without us recognizing it by making us”project” onto it either positively or negatively depending on the source. -Brief overview of Carl Jung and some of his theories; Jungian aspects of the psyche and how media, advertisement, music all play into our conscious projections.
