UHMC HISTORY

University of Hawai'i Maui College serves the educational needs of residents of the three islands comprising Maui County: Molokai, Lana'i, and Maui.

- The College is an outgrowth of the Maui Vocational School established in 1931.
- In 1958, the Department of Public Instruction authorized the name change to Maui Technical School, denoting an upgrade of vocational education to a technical level.
- The Hawai'i State Legislature enacted the Community College Act establishing a statewide community college system under the University of Hawaii, in 1964.
- Maui Technical School was incorporated into this system on July 1, 1965, and transferred from jurisdiction of the Department of Education to the University of Hawaii.
- In 1966, the Board of Regents of the University of Hawai'i authorized the College to confer the Associate in Arts and the Associate in Science degrees and approved the name change to Maui Community College, effective July 1, 1966.
- In September 1967, the first lower division transfer courses were offered.
- First outreach credit classes were offered on the island of Molokai in 1970. On Lanai, the first classes were scheduled in 1980, in Hana in 1982, and in West Maui in 2006.
- Maui College established the first higher education cable television channel delivering instruction to its tri-isle service area in 1983.
- By 1988, the college constructed a tri-isle interactive television system.
- Since 1995, six new buildings supporting classroom and computer labs were added to the campus: Ka Lama, Ka'a'ike, Kupa'a, Lailima, Pa'ina, and Ike Lea.
- With the completion of Ka'a'ike Instructional Telecommunications facility in 2001, Maui College opened its television and audio studios, digital media and electronic and computer engineering technology labs, and seven interactive TV classrooms.
- In Fall 2003, Maui College opened its culinary arts facility and began the Maui Oral Health Center in Kahului. In Spring 2015 the MOHC moved to campus into the renovated Daniel K. Inouye Health Center.
- In the summer of 2005, the World Hula Conference and, in summer of 2006, the IX Islands of the World Conference was held on campus and on Maui.
- Up until 2009, Maui Community College was one of 7 community colleges in the University of Hawaii System and part of a 10-campus University of Hawaii System.
- In Spring of 2010, the Western Association of Schools and Colleges (WASC) Accreditation Board approved the name change from Maui Community College to University of Hawai'i Maui College. The name change provides a more accurate reflection of the college's 3 baccalaureate degrees.
- The College encompasses 78 acres at the Kahului site. The Molokai Farm comprises 28 acres of land. Outreach sites include education centers at Molokai, Lanai, Hana, and Lahaina.
- In Spring 2014, the WASC Senior College and University Accrediting Commission granted UHMC an 8-year accreditation status.
- Enrollment for Spring 2015 was 3,433 students who reside on the three islands of Maui, Molokai, and Lanai, and statewide.
- In Fall of 2015, UHMC welcomed a new Chancellor, Lui Hokoana. He was previously the Title III Director at Maui College years ago, and after pursuing higher degrees and gaining employment at other UH system colleges, we are happy to welcome Lui Hokoana back to our campus as Chancellor.
