

Community Health Worker Health Navigator I

UNIVERSITY of HAWAII<sup>1</sup>
MAUI COLLEGE

Are you:

The person in your family who helps others access care and services?

Someone who cares about the health of your community and the people in it?

A Community Health Worker (CHW) is a trusted member of the community, and a valuable member of a healthcare or social services team. Also known as outreach workers or navigators, CHWs provide health education and care coordination. They help others take action and promote healthy communities.

You can complete a Community Health Worker Certificate of Competence in only two semesters. The certificate requires 15 credits, and distance learning options are available most semesters. Financial aid or employer support for tuition may also be available. Please visit our website for more information:
